

Karin Livingston

930 N. Shields St.
Fort Collins, CO 80521
Ph: 970-224-1215

OBJECTIVE

Author; editor, publications consultant.

QUALIFICATIONS

Experienced editor, reporter, business owner; 4H leader, horsewoman; education innovator. Se habla español.

WORK HISTORY

Technology Coordinator — 2006 to present

Saint Joseph School and Church/Archdiocese of Denver
Revitalized, streamlined lagging technology program; manage and develop all aspects of technology related to 100+ computer network.

Licensed Teacher — 1994 to 2006

Saint Joseph School/Archdiocese of Denver
Language Arts (grades 7-9), Spanish language instruction (grades 5-9),
Technology Director (1994 - 2003). Developed computer-assisted literacy program. Proposed, implemented school's transition from Apple/Mac to PC platform. Developed networked computer lab. Developed, implemented school's Spanish-language program. Building Committee: Developed, financed, built $2.4 million school addition.

Boarding Stable — 1990 to present

Purchased and developed 20 acres into successful horse boarding business, Poudre River Stables, offering custom care in a relaxed environment. Organized Poudre River Riders 4-H club; numerous horse show awards.

Media Specialist — 1990 to 1994

Saint Joseph School/Archdiocese of Denver
Provided instruction in Library and Computer Skills to students in grades K-6. Developed, implemented library skills curriculum. Increased fund-raisers; recorded record sales. Developed library/computer lab grants program.

Reporter/Editor — 1981-1989

McClatchy Newspapers, California
Covered education, health, state politics with the Gilroy Dispatch, Gilroy, CA. In 1982, moved to Modesto Bee, Modesto, CA, worked through various editing positions. Promoted to Assistant Features Editor/1988; left to raise children.

EDUCATION

Bachelor of Arts: Mass Communications with an Emphasis in Science,

REFERENCES

Jack Lyness, Senior Vice President, e-agency, 291 Third Street, Oakland, CA, 94607; Ph: 510.834.1852

Luanne Goodyear, Larimer County Extension Horse Specialist, 1525 Blue Spruce Drive, Fort Collins, CO 80524; Ph: 970.498.6016